Energy Transition Award 2022

This award recognises a company that is leading the way in how we approach and contribute to the Energy Transition in the UK. Reducing carbon emissions is the ultimate goal of the energy industry and delivering our transition projects to support net-zero will require innovation, determination and the creation of unique solutions or processes.

This award seeks to acknowledge companies that are successfully reducing carbon emissions and demonstrating excellence in their contribution to the energy transition through knowledge and experience whilst also engaging and collaborating with the wider supply chain and adhering to the Supply Chain Principles.
